FAQs

Q: Who can participate in the program?

A: Anyone who feels they could benefit from GED preparation supports!

Q: How do you run the program virtually?

A: Facilitators have been using Zoom, as well as other learning apps, to work through GED prep material with participants.

Q: Are sessions done in groups or individually?

A: So far, facilitators have been doing one-on-one lessons, but group lessons are an option!

Q: What subjects do you focus on?

A: Typically, Amadeusz facilitators will work through math and writing, including essay writing, with participants. However, we can go through whichever subject you feel you need support with!

Q: Are there any costs associated? Do I need to purchase any materials?

A: The program is completely free to participate in! Facilitators work through materials in the Steck-Vaughn GED prep textbook, however we can also send materials to participants if they don't have access to this.

Q: What is your schedule for lessons?

A: Amadeusz facilitators can work around the schedule of their participants! Typically, lessons are held Monday to Friday, however times are flexible.

Q: How many hours per week will GED prep take up?

A: Sessions are typically scheduled between 1-3 times per week, for around an hour each lesson. You can then decide how much time to put into practicing!

Q: When can I start?!

A: NOW! Reach out to Amadeusz via social media, email, or phone to get started!
